SUDDEN DEATH. - Dr. R. C. Powell, coroner, held an inquest, yesterday afternoon, upon the dead body of Richard S. Robbins, who was found, about nine o'clock, yesterday morning, in his room, at the house on the north side of King, between Lee and Fairfax streets, occupied by Henry Baader as a junk store, and who died about two hours afterwards. The verdict of the jury, of which Councilman Orlando Wood was foreman, was that the deceased came to his death from unknown causes. The deceased came here in 1862, and was for a time employed as a watchman in the quartermaster's department. He was, it is supposed, an apothecary, and for a time practised medicine among the colored people in the neighborhood of "Petersburg," but has generally been engaged in the junk stores, and for the last two years with Mr. Baader. He was supposed to be a sober man, but for a week before his death had been under the influence of liquor. When he came to Mr. Baader's last Saturday night he seemed to be so much overcome that that gentleman accompanied him to his room. placed the lamp out of his reach, and remarked upon his condition, but was told by him that he had been taking medicine. Yesterday morn ing as he did not make his appearance, Mr. Baader forced open the door of his room, and found him lying prone upon the floor with a bruise upon his face, supposed to have been caused by the stove, which had been knocked down. He was breathing, but was insensible, and, though Dr. Brown used every available effort to restore him, remained in that condition until about eleven o'clock, when he died. He has relatives living in Perryville, New Jersey, to whom a notice of his death has been sent, and his body deposited at the under-taker's establishment of Mr. Wheatley to await their orders.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES YESTERDAY .- The weather yesterday was cloudy, and only small congregations were present at the several churches. With the exception of that of Christ Church, where Rev. Mr. Hubbard preached, all the pulpits in the city were filled by the resident clergy. The following is a report of the work done during the day by the Young Men's Christian Association:
"The Queen Street Mission Sunday School

had a full number of pupils, and had the usual interesting season of work. More teachers are wanted in this activity.

"The Alms House Exercises were conducted by a large committee, the Rev. Mr. McGregor preaching to a full congregation. The services were of more than ordinay interest.

"The 4 o'clock Prayer Meeting in the Methodsst Protestant Church was a solmn and interesting season, chiefly in memoriam of Chas. Whittlesey, who for several years before his decease was an active and honored member of the Association. There was a full congregation present." (This meeting will be held next Sunday in the Methodist Episcopal Church.)

VICIOUS SERVANT. - A colored woman, employed as a house servant by Mrs. Brent, who lives on south Pitt street, while that lady was at church, yesterday, was caught in the act of rumaging the drawers of the bureau by Mrs. Brent's mother, an old lady who is paralyzed, and upon being remonstrated with, threatened that lady with personal injury. Upon Mrs. Brent's return she was informed of what had happened, and when she asked the woman about it the latter assaulted her violently and then left. She returned this morning, however, and commenced her work as usual, but when told by Mrs. B. that her services were wanted no longer, went off and sent her brother back after her clothes, and before he left he threatened to lay violent hands upon Mr. Brent. Both the assailants were arrested and

THE W. & O. R. R.—The Lessburg Washingtonian in notiging the laying of the rails on the Washington and Ohio Railroad to Round Hill says:

"Work is going on towards Snickersville, and we hope the people of that section will so far consult their own interests, so as to invest enough in the bonds of the company to keep the present efficient contractor at work to complete it to Snickersviile. It can be done by them, and while securing the completion of the road to that point, put their money in a good interest paying security. The freight and general busi ness of the company are improving, which give increased security to its obligations. If all who can will give it a little help, it will keep moving steadily, but surely, on."

Hose for the Sun Fire Company. - The special committee of the City Council-Messrs. Lawson and Moore of the Board of Aldermen, and Broders and Lucas of the Common Council-to whom was referred the application of the Sun Fire Company for hose, met on Sat-urday evening last, and after a consultation with the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department and the Fire Wardens, and Maj. Duffey, who represented the Sun Company, determined to take no action upon the application, but to refer it back to the City Council, and let that body refer it to the Fire Wardens, to whom all such matters should be sent.

THE LOUDOUN MYSTERY.-The Leesburg Washingtonian in noticing the mysterious stoning of the house of Mr. M. G. Hatcher, near Hamilton, in Loudoun county, a notice of which has appeared in the Gazette, says:

"While the house is surrounded by a guard of from fifteen to twenty five men, the stones are sometimes thrown, and very singularly they pass in a transom window over the porch door, and frequently through the same pane of glass, and yet it seems impossible to detect the party who throws them. The mest vig:lant efforts are now being made to solve this mystery, and to detect the scoundrel who is committing this

THE STONE BRIDGE. - The bridge over Hoff's Run, at the upper end of Duke street, known as the Stone Bridge is a dangerous passage way. The cries heard there two or three and Piso's Cure, at WARFIELD & HALL'S, nights ago and the blood and hat found there the following morning came from and belonged to William Toler, who had, in the prevailing darkness, fallen upon the rocks below. The Mayor immediately called out two companies of spe-cial police, and they are now assembled at the Court House. The citizens are generally alarmed and some of them fear that the town will be attacked to-night.
